Generation Youth provides each young person with a bespoke tailored programme, which combines their needs, interests, and future ambitions. We have two bases offering different courses and approaches to learning. The first base is our 'Thurmaston Base' this base provides tactile learning, teaching young people vital lifeskills and transferable SOFT skills through Sports, Exercise, Nutrition, and Outdoor learning. The second of our bases is the 'Old School base' where young people can complete a range of courses listed below. This base uses a nurturing approach to learning, allowing young people to gain vital lifeskills and SOFT skills through hands on therapeutic learning. At both of our bases young people in year 10/11 and above, will be enrolled onto the future steps programme, which allows young people to receive specialist careers advice, help with CV writing, support with application writing, travel training, emotional regulation support, and learn vital life skills including personal hygiene, budgeting, cooking, independent living, and much more. At both bases, all young people will complete PSHE lessons which cover all things from personal safety to emotional wellbeing, to finances, to sexual health. We offer a variety of awards including ASDAN, Short Course Awards, AQA Unit Awards, resilience award, as well as specialist awards with our partners. Our partners include Mini Warriors, National Space Centre, Canal and River Trust, The Wildlife Trust, Takeover Radio, Apple, and so many more. Our courses include Sport and fitness, Uniformed services, PSHE, environmental sciences, animal care, hair and beauty, construction and mechanics, food and nutrition, expressive arts, art and design (3d printing, laser cutting, fine art, graphic design, animation, digital design), science and space, gardening, technology and ICT, poetry and creative writing, geography, history, media and photography, life skills, and much more. All our groups are sizes are small and one-to-one is available.

Generation Youth offers the highest quality support to the hardest to reach young people in our society. A huge area of focus at our base is improving mental wellbeing. We do this by providing young people with the chance to open up in our informal counselling, which takes part consistently throughout our sessions, whether it be in the morning task, the evaluation tasks, or in our transport. We also have trained professionals at our bases who aim to help young people understand their diagnosis and receive the correct support. Finally, all of our activities centre around young people's wellbeing, whether that be in our PSHE lessons, our outdoor learning, in our sport sessions, or in our therapeutic classrooms.
